

Claresholm Citizens! Remember the Second Annual POULTRY SHOW, Opera House, Tuesday & Wednesday, next week!

CLARESHOLM REVIEW

VOLUME 9

CLARESHOLM ALTA., JAN. 8, 1914.

NO. 46

Your Business to Boost Show

Every preparation is being made for the "best ever" second Annual Show of the Claresholm Poultry Association on Thursday and Wednesday, next week. It is to be a well-attended show, the show secretary, Mr. A. Leslie, having secured entries from exhibitors there and the secretary of the association is receiving many entries from the district. The Poultry Show is doing, and will continue to do, yeoman service in building up the poultry business, and in distributing information on profitable raising of feed and the expansion of the egg industry. In time this association will get around to the commercial side of the poultry industry and will encourage "egg circles" and other cooperative aids to the expansion of the poultry business.

Everything augurs well for the coming Show. Selections have been made for every poultry man in this district to prepare to exhibit his birds at this Show. It also remains for everyone in this district to extend his support by attending the Show next week. In many cases people who attended last year's Poultry Show as spectators have now become exhibitors, and who can say, "I am too busy to go?" Goldsmith puts it well. Do next come alone to the Poultry Show. Urge your neighbors to come and make this Second Annual Show the best on the line.

Picking Off Some

Incomplete reports from the Lethbridge Poultry Show gives Claresholm the following prizes. W. G. Moffatt has 1st Buff Orpington cock and two hens highly commended. W. J. McKezie has 1st and 2nd S. C. White Leghorn cockerels. W. Bladom has 3rd R. C. White Leghorn cock. W. D. Munro has 1st R. C. Rhode Island Red cockerel. B. Tilden has 2nd Silver Wyandotte cock. Buckingham Bros. have 1st White Rock pullet. Jas. Blair, of Grantham, has 1st and 2nd hen and 1st cock. A. G. Moffatt has 1st and 2nd cock, 3rd R. C. White Leghorn and pullet. R. C. Rhode Island Reds and 2nd cockerel Anconas. The judging was not completed when this report was received.

Annual Meeting St. John's Parish

The annual meeting of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, here, was held last Sunday, Jan. 4th. This meeting was largely attended and included with pleasure the many sympathizers from the surrounding towns. There were, however, a very few anomalies outstanding and the safety of the rector had been fully met. This report is much more creditable when the fact that almost 40 members or adherents had removed from the parish during the year, St. J. being succeeded by Rev. Dr. H. E. Pendleton and J. R. Watt, people's warden. The vestry appointed were Messrs. Harvey, Tillotson, Guy and Insp. Tucker. A vote of appreciation of the rector's splendid services to the church during the year was passed.

A New Sheriff For Macleod

The appointment of A. B. Macdonald to the position made vacant by the retiring of D. J. Campbell, sheriff at Macleod, is very pleasing to the old friends of Mr. Macdonald in this town, especially where he is so well known. As the manager of the Glenury Ranch, some years ago, Mr. Macdonald was a familiar figure. He contested this constituency for a federal seat but was defeated. Laterly he was ousted from the position of superintendent of the Bank of Canada, by the Canadian government, and placed at S. J. Clark. As sheriff of the Macleod judicial district, Mr. Macdonald should prove an efficient officer.

Foothills Lodge, I. O. O. F. Installs Officers

With their beautiful realistic service, the officers of the Foothills Lodge, No. 13, I. O. O. F., were duly installed at a meeting held last Monday evening. A splendid supper was served by Caterer Barber at the Hotel below. The officers for 1914 are as follows:

P. N. G.—M. A. Lebeau
N. G.—Geo. Adams
V. G.—Rev. H. M. Henderson
See—W. T. Cochran
Treas.—W. D. Munro
Warden—W. Pritchard
Conductor—F. R. McCormick
Custodian—J. B. McMillan
S. N. G.—D. M. Moffatt

I. G.—S. Baxter
O. G.—C. W. James

M. B. Tilden

The installing officer was the D. D. G. M. Crossman, of Slavey.

First Hockey: Claresholm Wins

The Parkland hockey team came to the Parkland rink last Friday evening and although they were short two or three of their best men, they put up a very good brand of hockey. The Claresholm boys have had ice a little sooner. Manager Moffatt had given a few of the juniors a chance to play in senior company and the showing made by the "youngsters" was most gratifying. There is no doubt that the material is good for a good hockey team and if the weather man and the monkey boys could only get a little closer together there would be some fine sport this winter. The game resulted in a win for Claresholm 4 to 2. The Parkland boys really played a game in distinctly between the teams. The Parkland have some games and it is hoped they will appear against the locals some other time this winter. A pleasing feature of this game was that the patronage of the town folks was very good. Larry was out after his long absence and proved that he has not forgotten anything of the game.

Band Boys will Canvas

The financial return from the Band Dinner on New Year's Eve was not as good as the boys had expected.

Total receipts from the sale of tickets was $82. Expenses totaled $22, made up as follows: Hall rent, $15; Catering, $8; Printing, $8;

Musics, $12; Other expenses, $8.

A music meeting was held on New Year's Eve.

James Jameson was present.

The boys are anxious of purchasing five new horns and to enable them to make a first payment on these horns, it was suggested that a committee be appointed to canvas the community to secure the necessary money to pay for the band instruments.

If the band would be financially in a position to do so, the committee would do as other committees do give a substantial grant to the band.

As this is not possible at present, the citizens will be asked to give their portion direct, instead of through the band committee.

Any contributions calls upon a cent and a dollar, a donation, would be well, nor do any amount of any kind have been asked before, as establishes a record not usual in towns which have bands.

Latest Provincial Appointments

The current number of the Alberta Gazette announces the appointments of J. J. Young, C. J. Warren and Harry Bell of Meadow Creek, as justices of the peace; Dr. T. S. Tupper as coroner and Peter Vandervoort, of Gnamu, as sheriff's bailiff.

Standing of Students at the Claresholm School of Agriculture

C. third-class honors, from pass-mark to 65 per cent. In general proficiency 50 per cent or better is required for a pass. D. failure or below pass mark.

MYSTERY OF SIGHT

Most Wonderful and Inexplicable of All Our Senses.

LIMITS OF THE HUMAN VISION.

There Are Colors All About Us That the Eye Cannot See, as We Cannot Distinguish Beyond the Extremes of the Spectrum Red and Violet.

No two persons see precisely alike; they may have only two persons have eyes, but each sees differently. These differences are due to the wide disparities not only in the organ of vision and hearing, but also to the differences in mental makeup of the individual.

There are no physical problems as yet solved in any other field as the most wonderful and at the same time the most inexplicable sense that we possess. Every school child is taught that the eye begins to "see" light right through the retina of the eye after passing through the transparent cornea, the curved surface of the eye in direct contact with the external air, the aqueous or watery humor, and the crystalline and vitreous humors.

The eye can only "see" on three separate lenses through which the light passes before reaching the retina.

When observed from outside it is plain that the eye is a very complex organ, venerated in the eye. We see everything upside down, but in some way the nervous system corrects so that things appear to us right side up. This simple point has not yet been explained by the most advanced science.

How many colors are there? Light; it also distinguishes color. And here is one of the greatest problems with which the eye has to deal. The whole human body is divided into the responsibility for public health.—St. Louis Republic.

Medical Specialists in England.
What makes a doctor a specialist? An artist or physician of some skill may become a master of a house or a home in Harley street or neighborhood and practice as a specialist? He can do so, but in no means follows that he will be recognized as a specialist by the profession.

To win the professional status of a medical specialist he must be granted a professorship at a medical school or an appointment at a hospital in connection with the disease or diseases in which he professes to specialize.

Further, he must conform to certain rules of professional conduct. He must not take a less fee than five guineas—two guineas in the rate in London and some cities 3 or even 4 guineas for consultation, save extraordinary circumstances. He must see a new patient except on the introduction of the patient's own medical practitioner, and the specialist's medical man must be present or the specialist's will decline to see the sufferer.—London Times.

Public Health.
Diseases and epidemics used to be called "God's gift." God's gift in legal phraseology, it is said, made sanitary science to discover that the most of them come from acts of man, and good health can only be controlled by the exercise of man's power over nature. The United States government had a pioneer in this field, and in developing the power of modern sanitation to save life. It sent Waring to Havana. He was successful, and soon the world was won over to the idea that what we call "color" is nothing but the speed with which some parts of the ray of sun pass through the retina.

The eye can perceive colors striking it as low as red and as high as violet. But there are many rays both above and below the visible spectrum. The range of the spectrum, as they are called, the human eye cannot perceive, because the lengths of the waves of the spectrum are too great to be small for the human eye, and they are most important, exerting a great influence upon human beings.

The ultra violet rays are known now by the name of "ultra-violet," old chemical rays, while the ultra-red rays are heat rays and are known as such. It is evident that there is much that still remains to be discovered, even with all the mechanical aids which have been provided in telescope microscopes.

What really carries the message of vision to the brain center of vision, which is at the back of the head, is the optic nerve. When you are struck, you have a pain in the back of the head; it is probably due to eye strain is another cause of eye trouble. You know that strain and headache located at the orbit the first thing to do is to consult an optician and get the correct glasses. This is the best way to prevent eye strain.

Your eyes may be wrong in any number of ways. Either there may be a defect in some of the lenses or the nerves which carry the messages to the muscles of accommodation by which the eye is focused by the brain. The eyes are not able to move correctly if promptly taken in by an optician.

Other eyes are only defects of muscular control, and the latest research point to the necessity for correcting this defect as perfectly as possible. Many eyes are misaligned, but the secret of not calling in the specialist lies when they notice that an infant cannot see clearly. In early stages this trouble may be best corrected, otherwise the muscles become fixed in their error and the defect is permanent.

It is never too early to put glasses upon the child who requires them. It is well to go to any of the clinics from government institutions, the most expert, most experienced and most useful agency.—New York World.

Marks of Social Distinction.
"The Huzziness," said Sherlock Holmes, "are very popular with the upper classes."

"How do you know?" I queried, confident of a hidden answer.

"Because there are so many crosses upon the pavement in front of their houses."

"I don't see the point," said I.

"'Tis auto," said Sherlock—Newark News.

CHANNEL SCHEMES.

Ingenious Suggestions To Bridge English Channel.

The English Channel project being to the front again, it is interesting to look at some other schemes for bridging the gap between England and France. Those of Henry Fairburn, in 1835, were decided to take down a considerable portion of the cliff between Dover and Calais, and then to connect the area of several miles with the material thus obtained. A stone harbor was to be undertaken at a corresponding distance from the bridge.

Fairly Good Reasons.
Sir William Meredith, chief justice of Ontario, and Mr. Helmuth are members of the bar, and Sir William is a barrister having a seat in the knight. During a rather tedious argument on a case before Sir William, he was asked if he could not give a reason for his decision. He said in so doing, he took a fever emitted from a tropic wilderness, its noxious juices stemming under a torrid sun, and that he had been in the same zone a long time to the most salubrious regions of the world. The whole history of the knight's health was given, and he was held responsible for public health.—St. Louis Republic.

Curious Hotel Customs.
In an Edinburgh hotel, the bar counter contains a slot, into which when a guest is seated to await a waiter, a coin is inserted. The slot is for the coin to be inserted and to receive the funds of the local institutions.

A curious custom prevails at a hotel in Dundee. In the public room there is an armchair which was often occupied by Robert Burns, the national poet. Anyone who enters the room and sits himself in this chair is expected to pay a shilling to the hotel.

In another custom prevails at a hotel in Glasgow. The public room is a large hall, and will not bring an intelligent man to sit in it. The manager is the custom weekly, on Sundays, to go round the various tables and collect the money due to him, and to call the waiters to him, and to whom the money of the bar is drunk.

In another, Aberdeen, in a temperance hotel, each visitor on signing his name in the book of guests is desired to leave a shilling in the slot, and a card certifying that he is a teetotaler, and will not bring an intelligent man to sit in it. The manager is the custom weekly, on Sundays, to go round the various tables and collect the money due to him, and to call the waiters to him, and to whom the money of the bar is drunk.
